THE RETURN OF KAHN'S REDSFEST

The premier Reds event of the offseason returned this winter, as Kahn's RedsFest 2006, presented by Great American Insurance Group lived up to its billing as a bigger and better event than ever before. The fan festival provided the perfect venue for the club to release its new uniforms to fans.

The eighth fan festival returned to the Duke Energy Center Dec. 1-2, 2006, after a two-year hiatus due to construction on the convention center. More than 18,000 fans attended the two-day event, which raised $167,000 for the Reds Community Fund.

"Redsfest was an enormous success," said Reds President and Chief Executive Officer Bob Castellini. "Thank you to our fans for attending, and I am grateful to our sponsors and players for making this one of Major League Baseball's most extravagant celebrations. RedsFest entertained fans of every age and magnified the power of the Reds' tradition."

BIGGER AND BETTER

While the event stayed true to its roots as an opportunity for fans to mingle with players for autographs and pictures and gather Reds memorabilia, the club made sure this RedsFest would be more memorable than ever before.

One of the major highlights was a Friday night concert headlined by Reds pitcher Bronson Arroyo that also featured Screaming Mimes, Freekbass, psychodots and Noah Hunt and The All Stars. Each band played songs from the "Cincinnati Clutch Hits" CD. Saturday night, Arroyo performed an acoustic concert to close out the weekend's festivities.

Aside from the main stage jams, Kahn's RedsFest 2006 also featured a number of new exhibits, including the Pepsi MLB Tour Vehicle, the Rawlings "Making of the Game" Display, the New Era Minor League Baseball Hat Wall and a number of historic displays in the expanded Cincinnati Reds Hall of Fame and Museum area.

A NEW LOOK

The action-packed weekend kicked off on Friday, Dec. 1 with a fashion show to unveil the Reds' new uniforms, complete with a full-size stage and catwalk. Infielder Brandon Phillips, outfielder Chris Denorfia and relief pitcher Todd Coffey debuted the new threads, while Macy's modeled other Reds gear and winter fashions.

In an effort to honor the tradition of the franchise and create a new look for the future at the same time, the Reds did away with the sleeveless vests and pinstripes and brought back all red home caps and a Mr. Redlegs patch to honor the popular icon of the 1950s and '60s. Uniform numbers and lettering appears in an old-fashioned "Redlegs" font, which was designed exclusively for the Reds by Major League Baseball.

The new home uniform is white with red trim, red piping and the Mr. Redlegs patch on the left sleeve, while the alternate home uniform remains all-red but now features white trim and piping along with the Mr. Redlegs patch. The road uniform is the traditional gray with "CINCINNATI" arched across the front with the new font and red replacing black as the primary accent.

FOR THE COMMUNITY

While Redsfest certainly served its purpose as a fun weekend for fans, the event was even more special because proceeds benefited the Reds Community Fund and its community-involvement efforts.

"Redsfest helped generate the type of exposure and financial support we've never experienced previously," said Charley Frank, the Community Fund's executive director. "It was exciting for the Community Fund to be featured so prominently throughout the event and to see many of our kids, coaches, volunteers and partners participating in different ways."

One of the main reasons the Community Fund had a strong presence at Redsfest was the Buddy's Carpet Field of Dreams, a miniature indoor baseball field that held a Wiffle Ball tournament, celebrity home-run contest and baseball clinics throughout the event. The Community Fund also took center stage on Saturday night with the first ever Reds Community Fund Celebrity Poker Tournament, a Texas Hold 'em event that allowed fans to play alongside current and former Reds players, coaches and local celebrities.

Kahn's Redsfest 2007 is scheduled for Dec. 7 and 8 at the Duke Energy Center.

Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer

The 2007 season marks John Allen's 18th season in professional baseball and his 13th with the Cincinnati Reds. Mr. Allen originally joined the organization in May 1995 as controller. In June 1996, he was named "interim" managing executive and was named managing executive two months later. On Oct. 1, 1999, he was named chief operating officer. Mr. Allen is responsible for all business and ballpark operations of the organization as executive vice president and chief operating officer and reports directly to Bob Castellini, the Reds' president and chief executive officer.

Mr. Allen began his baseball career in 1990 as an intern with the Columbus Clippers, the Class AAA minor league affiliate of the New York Yankees, while earning a master's degree in sports management at The Ohio State University. He was subsequently named the club's director of business operations, a position he held for five years.

Mr. Allen was involved in all aspects of the development and construction of Great American Ball Park. That involvement included the sales-tax issue in the fall of 1995, lease negotiations, Issue 11 for the location of the ballpark and countless hours of design and construction meetings. ### Louisville Bats - AAA

At 75-68, the Bats finished in third place in the International League's West Division, 1.5 games behind first-place Indianapolis (Pirates) and Toledo (Tigers). It was their first winning record since 2003 (79-64). Their 22 victories in June set a franchise record for wins in any month and snapped a 10-month losing streak. Their .270 team average was tops in the IL.

OF Norris Hopper was named the team's Most Valuable Player. He won the International League batting title with a franchise-record .347 batting average, beating out Toledo's Josh Phelps by 39 points. He became the first player to win an IL batting title by 30 or more points since 1970. Hopper became the first Louisville outfielder selected to the International League post-season All-Star team since Raul Gonzalez in 2002.

OF Chris Denorfia was the Bats' lone representative in the Triple-A All-Star game. He started in CF and went 1-for-3 with 2 runs scored. Because of 4 stints with the Reds in Cincinnati, Denorfia fell 29 plate appearances shy of qualifying for the league batting title. His .349 average would have edged out Hopper.

The Bats led the International League in attendance for the seventh straight season, averaging 9,193 fans per game at Louisville Slugger Field (652,692).

History of the Cincinnati Reds

Important Dates

May 4, 1869 – The 1869 Cincinnati Red Stockings, the first all-professional nine, kick off their first regular season with a 45-9 win over the Great Westerns of Cincinnati.

Nov. 6, 1869 – In the final official match of the season, the Red Stockings defeat the Mutuals of New York, 17-8, on Union Grounds. Baseball's first team of professionals finished the season a perfect 57-0 record (although the team won more than 70 games, team captain Harry Wright only counted games against other National Association clubs as official).

June 14, 1870 – After 130 consecutive games without a loss, Cincinnati falls to the Brooklyn Atlantics, 8-7, in extra innings. The streak includes 81 official games and 49 exhibitions.

Retired Uniform Numbers

FRED HUTCHINSON

Born: Aug. 12, 1919 Birthplace: Seattle, WA Died: Nov. 12, 1964 Number Retired: 1965

Fred Hutchinson was a popular and successful manager of the Cincinnati Reds. Hutch's 466 managerial victories and .543 winning percentage rank him among the best managers ever to wear a Cincinnati uniform. The Reds exceeded the 90-win mark in three of his six seasons at the helm, and in 1961 they took the National League pennant.

But the joy of a first-place finish was matched only three years later by the sadness of Hutch's illness and early death. The courage, class and determination that Fred exemplified all his life were all the more evident during his battle with cancer. Hutch stepped down as Reds manager in 1964, and he died that November.

The following year, Hutch's No. 1 became the first uniform jersey number in Cincinnati Reds history to be retired.

Today, Fred Hutchinson's legacy lives on in the world-renowned Cancer Research Center that bears his name, and in The Hutch Award. It is given annually to a Major League ballplayer who "best exemplifies the character and fighting spirit of the late Fred Hutchinson...who overcomes any form of adversity." Past winners include Ray Knight, Ron Oester, Eric Davis, Bobby Tolan, Johnny Bench and Sean Casey.

In addition to the artifacts on display, the Hall of Fame and Museum features a number of interactive exhibits (from throwing off a regulation mound to making a call in the radio booth), which give fans an inside look at America's Pastime. Exhibits such as the Kids Clubhouse welcome Reds fans of all ages.

Cincinnati Reds Hall of Fame and Museum Featured Exhibits

Pete's back!....at the Reds Hall of Fame

The Reds Hall of Fame will celebrate the 24-year playing career of baseball's all-time hits leader with a major exhibit opening March 14, 2007. The exhibit is slated to remain open until spring of 2008.

The exhibit will cover 2,000 square feet, utilizing the gallery in the main lobby of the Reds Hall of Fame and incorporating existing exhibits as well as the Hall of Fame theater. All exhibits will detail Rose's career from 1963 to 1986, spanning the years from Crosley Field to Riverfront Stadium.

Edd Roush and the 1919 World Series

The Cincinnati Reds Hall of Fame and Museum features a new exhibit, "Edd Roush and the 1919 World Series." Roush was the leading hitter on the Reds and is a member of the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, as well as an enshrinee in the Reds Hall of Fame.

The 1919 World Series is the most infamous in history. Eight members of the Chicago White Sox team conspired with gamblers to lose the series. The Reds were their innocent victims and have never been considered legitimate winners -- even though the Reds finished with the best overall record in baseball in 1919.

More than 50 rare artifacts from the 1919 season and the career of Roush, plus rare video footage of the series and the players, is on display in the exhibit.

Reds' Ballparks Through The Years

Union Grounds (1869-70)

Union Grounds served as the first home of baseball's original professional team. The park was located near the area now occupied by the Museum Center in the Union Terminal train station. Anchored by a grandstand called "Grand Duchess," the park could seat up to 4,000 fans.

Avenue Grounds (1876-79)

The Reds headed two miles north from Union Grounds to erect Avenue Grounds, which featured a grandstand that could seat up to 3,000 fans. The ballpark was approximately four miles from the heart of the city's population, so horse-drawn streetcars and trains were a popular way to travel to the park.

Bank Street Grounds (1880-83)

The Reds moved closer to the city with the opening of Bank Street Grounds prior to the 1880 season. The ballpark was located on the north side of Bank Street, south of Western Avenue and just west of McLean Avenue, and could seat up to 4,000 fans. Innovative scoreboard features included players' names and out-of-town scores.

League Park (1884-1901)

Originally called American Park (in reference to Cincinnati's membership in the American Association), the park was renamed League Park (in reference to the National League) in 1890. The park featured a covered grandstand with leather-cushioned seats and open seats along the first- and third-base sides.

Palace of the Fans (1902-11)

Following a major fire, the Reds rebuilt the main grandstand of League Park in 1902. Today, baseball historians refer to the updated facility as Palace of the Fans. The park featured an illustrious grandstand with pillars and columns carved by hand, as well as 19 fashion boxes (much like opera boxes) and inexpensive field-level seating.

Crosley Field (1912-70)

Originally named Redland Field and renamed in 1934, Crosley Field was the first Reds ballpark to feature a double-decked grandstand. The facility, located at the corner of Western Avenue and Findlay Street, was the site of baseball's first night game and hosted Cincinnati's first World Series Championship team.

Riverfront Stadium (1970-2002)

The Cincinnati Reds shared Riverfront Stadium with the NFL's Cincinnati Bengals until 1999. The multipurpose stadium, which could seat approximately 56,000 fans, was considered state-of-the-art upon its opening in June 1970. The facility hosted five pennant winners and three World Series Championship teams.

Great American Ball Park (2003-present)

On July 7, 2000 Great American Insurance Company, one of the oldest insurance companies in the United States, and the Cincinnati Reds, America's first professional baseball team, joined forces when the two organizations announced a 30-year agreement under which the new home of the Reds would be called Great American Ball Park. Great American, founded in 1872, is the lead member of the Great American Insurance Group and is a wholly-owned subsidiary of American Financial Group, Inc. (NYSE: AFG). The Reds' new home kicked off the 2003 season with one of the most anticipated debuts in team history. The ballpark, with room for more than 42,000 fans, includes a variety of seating and dining options, a state-of-the-art sound and scoreboard system and an array of historical elements.

September 16, 1988: One Perfect Night

On September 16, 1988, lefthander Tom Browning tossed the only perfect game in Cincinnati Reds history when he retired all 27 batters faced in a 1-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

It was only the 14th perfect game of 9.0 innings or more in Major League history, just the third in modern National League history and the first no-hitter by a Reds pitcher since Tom Seaver blanked the Cardinals, 4-0, on June 16, 1978.

Browning's perfect game capped off an incredible season in which he posted an 18-5 record, including a 16-2 mark after June 6.

1973 NLCS

Oct. 6-10, 1973, New York Mets 3 - Cincinnati Reds 2

Game 1 @ Cin. - Reds 2 - Mets 1

Tom Seaver set a league playoff record by striking out 13 Reds, but after 7.0 scoreless innings he allowed a solo homer to Pete Rose in the eighth inning and another solo blast to Johnny Bench in the ninth.

Game 2 @ Cin. - Mets 5 - Reds 0

Jon Matlack pitched a 2-hitter and struck out 9 batters as the Reds were blanked for the first time in NLCS play.

Game 3 @ NY - Mets 9 - Reds 2

Rusty Staub homered in his first 2 times at the plate to lead starter Jerry Koosman to an easy 9-2 victory...twice the game was marred by bench-clearing brawls, triggered when Pete Rose slid into Bud Harrelson at second base in the fifth inning.

Game 4 @ NY - Reds 2 - Mets 1

Pete Rose hit a home run off Harry Parker in the 12th inning...Tony Perez tied the game at 1-1 in the seventh with his first homer of the NLCS.

Game 5 @ NY - Mets 7 - Reds 2

Tom Seaver, a victim of non-support most of the regular season, was backed by a 13-hit attack as he out-pitched Cincinnati ace Jack Billingham...the Mets broke the game open with a 4-run fifth inning en route to their second pennant.

commissioner of baseball, former Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, who was hired to clean up America's favorite pastime.

The supposed involvement of certain players was something of a mystery in its own right. Weaver, who had known about the conspiracy from the beginning, refused to take part and batted .324 in the Series. He was banned for not exposing his teammates.

Jackson, who admitted taking $5,000, batted .375 with a homer and 6 RBI.

But, there were those who were clearly guilty.

Risberg committed 4 errors and batted .080, but did not receive a cent. Gandil - the organizer of the scam - walked away with $30,000 and immediately announced his retirement. Cicotte lost 2 of his 3 starts and earned a $10,000 payday. He later told the jury it was not worth the effort.

In one of the more unusual plays of the 1939 World Series, Reds catcher Ernie Lombardi was involved in a home-plate collision in the 10th inning of Game 4. As Lombardi lay dazed at home plate, Joe DiMaggio scampered home all the way from first base to give the Yankees the lead for good.

Major League Baseball Rules of Interest

Calculating the "Magic Number": Determine the number of games to be played by the team in the lead. Add one to that number. Subtract from that figure the number of games ahead in the loss column from the closest opponent.

Determining Earned Run Average: Multiply earned runs by nine, then divide total by innings pitched.

Determining Batting Average: Divide total hits by total at-bats.

Determine Slugging Percentage: Divide the total bases of all safe hits by the total number of at-bats.

Determining On-Base Percentage: Divide hits + walks + hit-by-pitch, by at-bats + walks + hit-by-pitch + sacrifice flies.

Determining Fielding Percentage: Divide the total number of putouts and assists by the total of putouts, assists and errors.

The Winning Pitcher: The starting pitcher will be credited with the win only if the pitcher has pitched at least five complete innings and his team not only is in the lead when he is replaced, but remains in the lead the remainder of the game. EXCEPTION: The "must-pitch-five-complete-innings" rule in respect to the starting pitcher shall be in effect for all games of six or more innings. In a five-inning game, credit the starting pitcher with a game won only if he has pitched at least four complete innings and his team not only is in the lead when he is replaced, but remains in the lead the remainder of the game. When the starting pitcher does not meet the preceding criteria and more than one relief pitcher is used, the victory shall be awarded on the following basis:

(1) When, during the tenure of the starting pitcher, the winning team assumes the lead and maintains it to the finish of the game, credit the victory to the relief pitcher judged by the official scorer to have been the most effective.

(2) Whenever the score is tied, the game becomes a new contest insofar as the winning and losing pitcher is concerned.

(3) Once the opposing team assumes the lead, all pitchers who have pitched up to that point are excluded from being credited with the victory except the current pitcher.

(4) The winning relief pitcher shall be the one who is the pitcher of record when his team assumes the lead and maintains it to the finish of the game. EXCEPTION: Do not credit a victory to a relief pitcher who is ineffective in a brief appearance, when a succeeding relief pitcher pitches effectively in helping his team maintain the lead. In such cases, credit the succeeding relief pitcher with the victory.

Earning a Save: Credit a pitcher with a save when he meets all of the following conditions:

- (1) He is the pitcher that finished the game won by his team.
- (2) He is not the winning pitcher.
- (3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
  - a. He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning, or
  - b. He enters the game, regardless of the count, with the potential tying run either on base, at bat, or on deck (that is, the potential tying run either already on base or is one of the first two batters he faces), or
  - c. He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

Consecutive Game Hitting Streak: A consecutive game hitting streak shall not be terminated if the player's plate appearance(s) results in a base on balls, hit batter, defensive interference or sac bunt. The streak shall terminate if the player has a sac fly and no hit. Consecutive game hitting streaks do not carry over from season to season.

Consecutive Game Playing Streak: A consecutive game playing streak shall be extended if the player plays one-half inning on defense or if he completes a time at bat by reaching base or being put out. A pinch-running appearance shall not extend the streak. If a player is ejected from the game by an umpire before he can comply with the requirement of this rule, the streak shall continue.

Rain Delays: Pursuant to Rule 3.10(a), the manager of the home team shall be the sole judge as to whether a game shall be started because of unsuitable weather conditions or the unfit condition of the playing field, except for the second game of a doubleheader. Pursuant to Rule 3.10(c), the umpire in chief shall be the sole judge as to whether and when a game shall be suspended and as to whether and when play will be resumed. An umpire shall not call a game until at least 30 minutes after he has suspended play. He may continue the suspension as long as he believes there is any chance to resume play.

National League Curfew: There is no curfew in the National League. The game is in the hands of the umpires once it has started.

Major League Year: 172 days of service time constitutes a full year in the Major Leagues.

Rookie Status at the Major League Level: To be considered a rookie, a player must not have more than 130 at-bats, or 50 innings-pitched in the Major Leagues during a previous season or seasons, nor more than 45 days on a Major League roster during the Major League 25-player limit (excluding time in the military).

Baseball in Sarasota

The 2007 season marks the 10th year of Cincinnati Reds Spring Training in Sarasota, Florida. The City of Sarasota has a long and cherished history of spring training. From the New York Giants' first season there in 1924 to the Reds of today, spring training has remained a constant for much of the last 84 years.

The Giants and legendary manager John McGraw were Sarasota's first tenants, playing their spring slate there from 1924-'27. Next up was the Boston Red Sox, who called Sarasota its spring home from 1933-'58 (minus a four-year exception for World War II), a period in which future Hall of Famers Ted Williams and Jimmie Foxx and countless other stars became a part of the city's lore. After their departure, the Red Sox arranged for the Los Angeles Dodgers to take their place in 1959, but that lasted for just one year.

The very next year, the Chicago White Sox shifted their spring training headquarters from Tampa to Sarasota, beginning what would become the longest tenure in the city's history. The White Sox held their operations in Sarasota for 28 years before finally moving on after the 1997 season. The Reds took over after that and have held spring training there since 1998. During that time, the Reds have expanded their operations and staff in Sarasota and now operate the Florida State League's Sarasota Reds, the team's high Class A affiliate, in addition to the club's spring training.

Reds in the Community

Since its inception in 2001, the Reds Community Fund has used baseball as a vehicle to reach out to kids. As the nonprofit arm of baseball's first professional team, the Community Fund strives to create programming that connects at-risk children with baseball, while creating fundraising programs that connect baseball with the community.

The Reds Community Fund blends together the team's long history of community involvement with a present-day commitment to at-risk kids throughout Greater Cincinnati and Reds Country. A series of creative, baseball-themed fundraising events and programs provide some of the necessary funding.

Whether it's renovating baseball fields, providing opportunities to kids with disabilities, underwriting expenses for inner-city teams or hosting its "Reds Rookie Success League," the Reds Community Fund is dedicated to improving the lives of youth through baseball.

OUTREACH PROGRAMS

REDS ROOKIE SUCCESS LEAGUE

The Reds Rookie Success League is a free, noncompetitive, coed, character-building summer baseball league targeting underprivileged 8-11 year olds. The two six-week sessions stress character building while utilizing the game of baseball as the delivery vehicle. The upcoming 2007 season will mark the first year of RRSL – Butler County, in partnership with the Joe Nuxhall Character Education Fund.

FIELD RENOVATION

This comprehensive effort to improve the conditions of inner-city baseball fields in Greater Cincinnati and throughout Reds Country has become one of the defining features of the Community Fund. The initiative has become an instant collaborative success, making baseball more accessible to coaches, parents and thousands of children.

KNOTHOLE/YOUTH BASEBALL FUNDING

This initiative provides funding for uniforms, equipment, trophies, and assorted fees to support inner-city baseball and softball organizations in Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky. Organizations can receive $100 per child as long as they meet an established community-based criterion.

The Fund also supports a "Match" initiative designed to bring youth baseball teams from the suburbs and the inner city together in the spirit of diversity, interaction, and friendly competition.

The Ol' Lefthander

Following the 2004 season, Joe Nuxhall retired after 60 years in the organization, including 38 years in the broadcast booth. He has a personal services contract with the team and is expected to broadcast selected games in 2007. Nuxhall began his broadcasting career with the Reds in 1967 and for 31 seasons from 1974-2004 teamed with Hall of Famer Marty Brennaman on the Reds Radio Network. In both December 2003 and December 2006, Nuxhall was nominated for the Ford C. Frick award, given annually by the National Baseball Hall of Fame to a broadcaster "for major contributions to the game of baseball." The Reds Hall of Fame lefthander pitched in the Major Leagues for 16 years (1944, 1952-'66), including all or parts of 15 seasons with the Reds, and went 135-117, 3.90 in 526 apps and 287 starts for Cincinnati, Kansas City and Los Angeles. As a 15-year-old on June 10, 1944 vs StL, he became the youngest player ever to appear in a Major League game, a record that never will be broken. Nuxhall has played in or broadcast games in 59 ballparks, including each of the existing ballparks except for Tor's Skydome, Sea's SAFECO Field and Bal's Camden Yards.
